

Painting The Winged Enchantment Oracle Deck

By artist Lisa Hunt (creator of Fantastical Creatures Tarot and Ghosts and Spirits Tarot)

The Wing Enchantment paintings by Lisa Hunt capture humanity's deep connection with the avian world by presenting a visual blending of the two realms. This is how Lisa describes her art process:

Watercolors have an anthropomorphic quality. I find it the perfect medium for capturing birds as wondrous spirits. I studied and sketched myriad birds, examined wing structures and feathers, their unique ambulatory qualities and their seemingly effortless ability to launch into the heavens. These big, bold watercolors were created with a sound understanding of bird anatomy, using a combination of technique and spontaneous creative energy. They flowed from the paintbrush in broad strokes as well as tiny, meticulous brush details. I never belabored these creations but just kept painting and painting until I felt the compositions come together with soulful intent.

Lisa is an internationally loved artist and writer. She is best known for her contributions to the tarot genre where her award-winning work has garnered critical acclaim throughout her professional career. Her work has been described as “guideposts through the psyche” and has “elevated tarot art to a completely new level”. Lisa’s work has appeared in numerous periodicals, book covers, calendars, collectible card games and children’s books. Her current endeavors include an oracle deck and a Lenormand project. She also enjoys creating custom drawing/art packages for her fans, her “soul drawings” being a customer favorite.
